DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-27 are pending in the instant application and are subject to the following lack of unity requirement.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-14, drawn to the compounds and medicaments of the formula I as well as a process of making compounds of the formula I.

Group II, claims 26 and 27, drawn to compounds of formula I-1.

Claims 15-25 drawn to subject matter that is non-statutory under 35 USC 101 and can not be examined as written (i.e. as use claims). The claims will be added to a new group or a preexisting group upon amendment to recite statutory subject matter as appropriate.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I and Group II comprise structurally different compounds which do not have a common core structure within the chemical structure of each compound (i.e. in Group I, NH is bonded to C=Y whereas in Group II, OR is bonded to C=O). For example, the core structure of the compounds of formula I is different than the core structure of the compounds of formula I-1.

Accordingly, Groups I and II are not so linked by the same or a corresponding special technical feature as to form a single general inventive concept.

Election of Species

Applicant is further required to elect a single disclosed species within the elected Group (i.e. a compound from claim 12) and to provide the structure of this elected compound.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows: the various structurally different compounds of formula I (i.e. see claim 12) and the various structurally different compounds of formula I-1.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner: the various structurally different compounds of formula I (i.e. claims 1-14) and the various structurally different compounds of formula I-1 (i.e. claims 26 and 27).

The following claims are generic: 1-27.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the different species of formula I are structurally different (i.e. a compound of formula I wherein Z is -Ar is structurally different than a compound of formula I wherein Z is -CH₂-Ar) and the different species of formula I-1 are also structurally different.
